

Gregory Antonarakis received his dental degree from Cardiff, UK, and his orthodontic specialty training from Geneva, Switzerland. He subsequently completed his PhD on functional appliance treatments in Gothenburg, Sweden, and then went on to pursue a clinical fellowship in cleft and craniofacial orthodontics in Toronto, Canada. Gregory then returned to the University of Geneva, Switzerland where he has been working since, with a special interest in the treatment of patients with clefts and craniofacial anomalies, juvenile idiopathic arthritis, and individuals with special needs.